

Directly from Yakima Valley College's Related Instruction Rubrics

GENERAL EDUCATION OUTCOME: Communication

Communication includes the delivery and reception of ideas.

C1: Demonstrate understanding of language, conventions, or symbols in context.

Unacceptable	Developing	Acceptable	Proficient
Student work does not demonstrate an understanding of language, conventions or symbols in context.	Student work shows a superficial understanding of language, conventions, or symbols in context.	Student work demonstrates understanding of language, conventions, or symbols in appropriate context.	Student work demonstrates sophisticated understanding of language, conventions, or symbols in context.

C2: Use contextually appropriate language, conventions or symbols.

Unacceptable	Developing	Acceptable	Proficient
Student work does not reveal appropriate use of language, conventions, or symbols in the context of the assignment.	Student work uses language, conventions, or symbols in an inconsistent or underdeveloped manner in the context of the assignment.	Student work demonstrates a contextually appropriate use of language, conventions, or symbols.	Student work demonstrates a sophisticated use of language, conventions or symbols in the context of the assignment.

C3: Organize ideas and concepts clearly and logically.

Unacceptable	Developing	Acceptable	Proficient
The performance or assignment lacks logical organization and clarity.	The performance or assignment has overall structure but lacks clarity or has a break in logic.	The performance or assignment demonstrates consistent and logical organization and clarity.	The organization of the performance or assignment is strategic, coherent, and enhances theme or message.

C4: Organize ideas and concepts clearly and logically.

Unacceptable	Developing	Acceptable	Proficient
The non-verbal, non-printed techniques detract from or confuse the idea or concept.	The non-verbal, non-printed techniques do not enhance the idea or concept trying to be conveyed.	The non-verbal, non-printed techniques convey intended ideas, concepts or information.	The non-verbal, non-printed techniques demonstrate a sophisticated delivery of ideas, concepts or information.